Started playing with computers at 12. I am a very dedicated person, learning and mastering at what I'm putting my head into. I'm an easy-going person easily fitting in with people making it easier for me to work in groups. Critical thinking is also one of my best features, I seem to analyze and evaluate an issue before forming a judgement. Other than that, I recently learned that I could multitask, I have the ability to delegate tasks to manage workloads.
